“Dedicated to the Ones We Love”

We the Class of 1990, dedicate this yearbook to two people who richly deserve to be recognized for their devotion to teaching.

Mrs. Ella Wirth and Mr. Robert Hopkins stand out in the minds of the senior class who are truly worthy of this honor.

Mrs. Wirth

Mrs. Wirth came to SWHS in 1970 after ten years in the nursing field. She began teaching, part time to allow her more time with her young child, Biology, Child Development, and Adult Living. Her schedule increased over the years and so did her love of teaching. Mrs. Wirth's enthusiasm and sense of humor in the classroom made her class something to look forward to. When asked what she thought about SWHS, she replied, "My enthusiasm for teaching has grown with each year and has been nurtured by the majority of my students, and the support of my colleagues. It has been a rewarding experience." Mrs. Wirth, you are one of a kind and the students of SWHS will miss you very much.

Mr. Hopkins

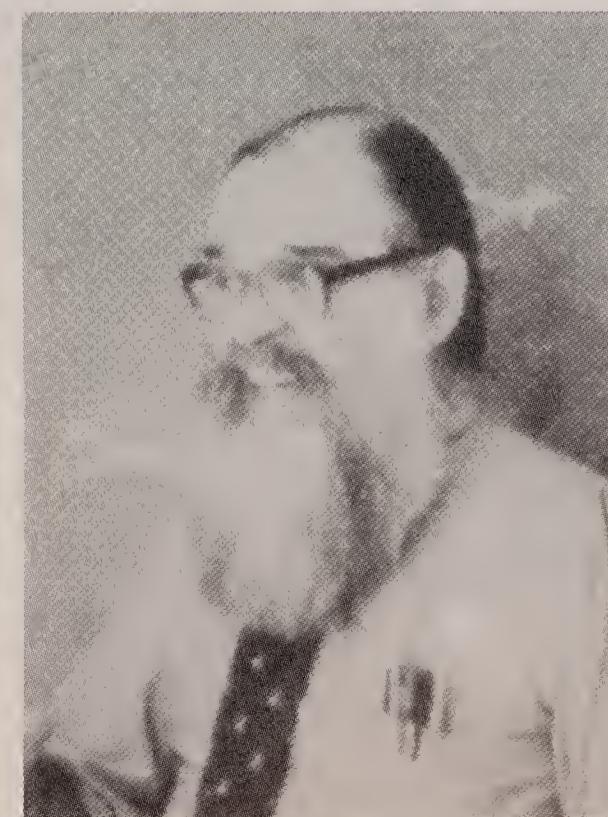

Mr. Hopkins has been a member of the teaching staff at South Windsor High School for nearly twenty years. He is a talented and intelligent man who enjoys chemistry and tries to help others appreciate the field of science. Mr. Hopkins is a diehard environmentalist as well as an active outdoorsman. He has dedicated himself to teaching because he feels it is a "lively and unfolding activity, one which still engages my attention, and one which is always becoming something." His exciting and entertaining discussions are what make having Mr. Hopkins for a teacher actually fun. When asked what he would change about this school Mr. Hopkins replied, "I would make it so that people were here a little more for their own reasons and a little less for other people's reasons." As the class of 1990, we dedicate our yearbook to an outstanding man, Mr. Hopkins.

After many delays and one cancellation, the Winter Pep Rally was held on December 15. The cheerleaders, the band and the mascots performed and the winter sports teams and coaches were introduced. The spirit contest of buying links for the Christmas cheer was won by the seniors (way to go guys!) and the sophomores were a close second.

The proud and rowdy seniors show their spirit.

Pep Rally '90

Mr. B. (no jokes) addressed the student body and begins the pep rally.

And the band played on... Senior Alex Lapins om-pah-pahs on the tuba during the pep rally.

Come on juniors, get into the SWHS spirit! (what a logical idea)

The cheerleaders demonstrate their balancing skills while performing at the beginning of the pep rally.

Hold on to the Nights

Mark Bonner, Rusty Williams, and Chris Dio check out the women on the dance floor.

Almost ready for the prom, Dayna Levack and Marnie Gladstone wait patiently for their dates.

After dinner Jen Goldstein and Penny Johnson wait for the court to be announced.

Class of '90 Junior Prom, May 12, 1989

Sleek black and shiny white limousines pulled up to the East Hartford Ramada Inn. Juniors and their dates, excited about the evening ahead, stepped out in fancy dresses and tuxedos. Once inside, prom pictures were taken and hors d'oeuvres were served before a dinner of Chicken Cordon Bleu or Roast Beef. Dessert, a scrumptious chocolate creation, was followed by the announcement of the Prom King and Queen and their court. Afterwards, everyone finished up the evening dancing and having a great time. By 12:00 everyone was exhausted, many went home to prepare for the beach the next day. It was definitely a night to hold on to.

Fun, Fun, Fun

The Day After

The beach after the prom... a traditional trip made every year by members of the junior class. Although it was chilly and the water was unbearable, everyone found a way to have fun. Sunbathing, surfing, football and paddle ball occupied the time of many juniors, while one daring soul decided to test the water, dragging an unsuspecting female with him. Big mistake! Those juniors who had come with their dates took some time out for a romantic walk along the edge of the water, while others spent their day basking on a blanket under the sun. The day passed quickly, and soon it was time to go home, most of us lacking the tan for which we had hoped.

Deb Nugent runs to take a picture of the pyramid before it collapses. Karen Melinosky, Dani Longano, Michele Thayer, Wendy Clark, Cyndi Balboni, Jill Pandy, Lauren Smutney, Kristin Daley

Jen Case and Merry Bergeson sit patiently waiting for some cute guys to come by.

Jeff Shepard and Dan Burnett pose for all the pretty girls to see.

"We are the Champions"

An athlete is not only good at sports, but works hard to achieve his or her goals. An athlete shows good sportsmanship and works well with other members of the team. Both Jamie Lussier and Kristie Cella possess the competitiveness and the drive to succeed not only in athletics but also in life.

Paul Bavier and Lisa Michelizza are versatile students. They take part in many activities. Paul is President of the Senior Class, member of the student council, plays football and the piano. Lisa is President of the NHS, a member of student council, competed nationally in FBLA, and competes in soccer, indoor track and track. When it comes to being involved, these two really are.

"Just the Way You Are"

"Don't go changin', to try to please me..." What makes a good personality? The ability to relate well to others, to look at things with a positive attitude, to bring a smile to another person's face and to cheer them up if they're feeling down. But most of all, it's the ability to have fun and make the best of almost any situation. Matt Rice and Wendy Clark certainly brighten anyone's day.

Here are three people that are one of a kind. They keep us entertained when we have just about had it. When you think that there is finally peace within the school, Colleen Collins, Chris Benway, or Jon Lammers will say and do something unpredictable.

Christine Mary Champ

"Rebel Yell" "Want Me"

Sitting down reading a book, studying on a Friday night, or following the rules of the road; these are some of the things you wouldn't find Amy Kowalchik and Brian Aselton doing. Rules are made to be broken!

Carolyn Asplund, Tiffany Duncan, and Ron Russo are the class of 90's flirtatious trio. No steady relationships for these three. They prefer the freedom that goes along with the swinging singles lifestyle.

Ellen Elizabeth Clegg

"On Broadway"

To be or not to be an actor or actress is that the question...

Janice Weiner and Jeff Stillman have made their mark on the stage at SWHS through productions such as The Canterville Ghost, Up the Down Staircase, and Drood. Maybe one day they will be on a Broadway's Stage...

"The Sound of Music"

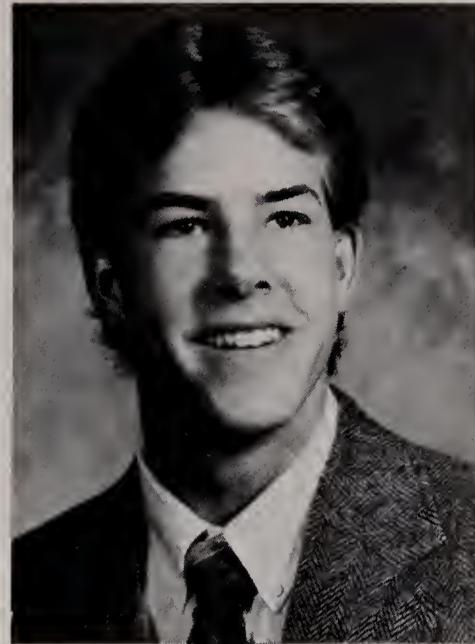

How does one get to be chosen most musical? This year's winners have a dedication and love of music. They are all extremely talented with the instruments that they play: Erik Manley playing bass guitar and percussion, Ellen Clegg playing trumpet, piano and percussion, Sarah Creem playing alto saxophone, piano and flute.

“Dream On”

“Be True To Your School”

What makes some students more school spirited than others? What makes some look forward to going to pep rallies? Well, being school spirited is supporting your school and getting involved in activities. A person with school spirit shows good sportsmanship and knows how to encourage a team. Among many of the class of '90, Michele Thayer and Rob Geoffroy certainly have that Bobcat spirit.

ZZZZZZZZ....L.B. Gray and Jeanne Thompson are the top vote getters for class sleepers. They feel that sleeping is a top priority. They stay up late at night and catch up on their z's during classes but somehow manage to gain an education. Perhaps they aren't always asleep.

Class Officers/

Because of their responsible traits these officers were picked by the class of 1990. They held meetings before the school year began, with the dedicated senior advisors. Long hours were put in towards planning the senior activities and many volunteers were found. As a result of their hard work, the activities were successful. The class thanks them for all they have done.

This year's senior executive board has been very busy planning the Senior activities and events for the rest of the student body. Each

Twona Adamow

I was born in Poland and had never been to the United States until this November. I'm glad to see this country. I started school here in November 1989 and during that time I have made a lot of friends. After high school I want to learn more English and then go to college. I want to stay in the United States, get a good job in the future and be happy.

Executive Board

board member is given the responsibility of an event such as the Magazine Drive, Homecoming, Senior Reception, Pep Rallies, Winter/Spring Event or the Senior Banquet. Behind the scenes, the planning for these activities take a great amount of time and patience. This definitely shows. The board is so crucial in planning the end of the year Senior events so that we can all look back with fond memories of our fun-filled years at South Windsor High School.

It all began last year when my friends & I got our licenses and our own cars. I was first and drove my '74 Nova to school. Next came Rob Sauer with his '67 pick-up, then it was Rich Franas with his '79 Buick Regal and then Vin Castagno with his '71 Nova. The final addition to the group was Don Musgrave with his '76 Pontiac Grand Prix. We had all parked in different spots and arrived at different times of the day. We noticed that the rear row of Wapping was constantly vacant. We came up with the idea of parking there and have since "owned the rear row." We now back in and align our cars picture perfect.

Juniors plan trip to NYC

Christmas in New York—what could be more exciting? Between sailing, sightseeing, and shopping, the class trip proved to be a memorable experience. Juniors signed up for the December 17th trip, and those who voyaged to the Empire State had a chance to spend time with each other as the class of '91.

While in the Big Apple, the class saw such sights as Rockefeller Center, St. Patrick's Cathedral and Trump Tower. They also had time to finish up last minute Christmas shopping at F.A.O. Schwartz, Sax Fifth Avenue, and other stores in the area.

A large black and white photograph showing a woman, identified as Missy Magnano, sitting at a table and serving refreshments to children. She is holding a tray with cups and a small cake. In the background, there are shelves with various items and another person standing near a doorway.

Missy Magnano seems to be demonstrating a new version of the twist to one of her young friends during the Halloween party in the Child Development Class in late October.

"Teach Your Children Well"
Kim Clare serves up a few refreshments after a busy morning of play group.

Child Development is a class that takes place during B, C and D periods. The class organizes a nursery school for ten children on Tuesdays and Thursdays for ten weeks. The school is called The Learning Center and during this time, SWHS students work with 3- and 4-year olds helping to develop the children's large and small motor skills.

Jeff Brown and Roxanne Aquije were the junior homecoming king and queen for this year. The two were chosen by their fellow classmates during balloting which took place in mid October.

At the homecoming game, Roxanne received a bouquet of flowers and Jeff a red boutinier during the half-time celebrations and were paraded around the football field in a blue convertible.

All would have been happier if the football team had won, but they were defeated by East Hartford 16-14.

Out of the science classes offered, juniors can take Chemistry, Astronomy, Atmospheric Studies, Disease and many other challenging courses that sometimes may leave them lost and confused.

Most find the Sciences a good building block for college or future work.

Smoking may not be allowed at South Windsor High, however our school is no exception to the ever popular saying: Rules are meant to be broken. Apparently that is Dan Grover’s motto as he and others get away with a quick smoke before lunch.

The no smoking policy went into effect last year and affects both students and faculty alike. This has led to many after school detentions for those unlucky enough to get caught.

Fun is... going to a party on a Friday night? Not for this group!!! They're perfectly content hanging out with friends in the gym.

Nathan Jones, Dan Fauteux, and Pete Andrews seem to be amusing themselves while Jason Glider and Colleen Denning look like they're just a little bit camera shy.

Gym classes are somewhat different this year with the addition of "dittos" for those who are excused from gym for physical reasons or who choose not to participate in a particular sport.

Boy, could we boogie then. Cindy Bomaster, Carolyn Wogelius, Beth Bishop, Kelly Sheehan and an unidentified male dance the night away at Homecoming '88. How we've changed since then! Now that we have our licenses, getting around is no longer quite as difficult. We don't have to make empty promises to our parents to clean our rooms just for a ride to the movies. Eric Hildebrand and Tim Giulini leave the rest of the gym class in their dust. During the spring and fall, gym classes use all of the outdoor facilities for soccer, tennis, archery, flag football, frisbee, golf, softball, or running the track.

For some, gym classes help them get in shape for JV or Varsity sports. For others it is a necessary, although somewhat unliked, source of physical exercise.

The guys don't really care about becoming sweaty or dirty, but for some of the female participants, sweating is gross and disgusting, besides, it takes time to redo their hair.

Athletes find early morning practices rough on schedules

Junior Marc Perry signs in after an early hockey practice on a cold winter morning. During hockey season, the team practices at 5:30 a.m. doing drills with the puck, passing, skating, and shooting. It's fun being a team member because of the excitement that comes from the crowds when they see our team win. Even though some team members may complain about practice at the crack of dawn, their hard work pays off in the end. The team's effort and commitment may gain them a seat in the state tournament, and this goal makes the team strive even more. Their strength and leadership keeps the players united and ready to win. .

Yearbook class teaches graphic and business skills...

Yearbook staff member Brad Symonds works on the design and layout for the '90 yearbook. Students who chose to participate in processing the yearbook are expected to create, imagine, and design the pages themselves. The tasks assigned to students enable them to experience photography, writing articles, and handling money and paperwork for advertisements.

Some staff members find it brain wracking to write an article for a particular picture. It is quite difficult to write two paragraphs on one single photo, but with a little time and effort, the young journalist can develop great writing skills.

Jeremy Colvin shows his soccer skills by taking the ball away from his Fermi opponent. Jeremy is one of eight Juniors who made the Varsity soccer team. The team had an average season but with lots of returning underclassmen, next year promises to be much better.

Many underclassmen find athletics as a healthy diversion to the academic life at SWHS.

SWHS will always have devoted fans.

Junior Tim Evans is thinking of things other than the basketball game he's attending. Could his thoughts be about school, sports, or his girlfriend? We will never know for sure what is on his mind, but whatever it is, we know it must be more important than showing his school spirit for the team.

Tim is one of many students who attend seasonal Varsity basketball games, even though our team is not the best in the state. No matter what a team's record may be, Bobcat fans will always be there for them.

Out of all the things at South Windsor High, the most dreaded is the Walk To Wapping. When it's nice out, the short walk over isn't so bad, but when it's pouring out or snowing it seems like the walk is a mile long. One other problem is being late to class due to a traffic jam at the door. Until the renovations are done, we'll have to survive...the Walk to Wapping.

What would life be without music? Most juniors, as well as the rest of us wouldn't really want to find out. Music is with you wherever you go. When you're driving around with no particular place to go, music's there to keep you entertained. And once in a while you're lucky enough to catch a live band playing like Scott Starkweather's band, "High N' Tight" which played at a Shades dance.

“...I'll be sittin' when the evening comes...”- Otis Redding

looking at?

School dances are a great place to meet friends, hang out, and yes, some people actually dance! Donna Dube, Jill Romano, Whitney Burke, and Scott Wojcik aren't dancing, but they seem to be having a good time anyway. Scott and Whitney appear to be really interested in what Donna is saying while Jill is being distracted by something else.

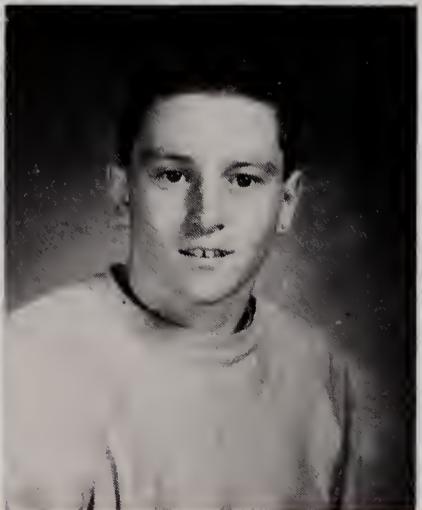

Whatever the case may be, school dances will always be one of the better parts of life at South Windsor High School.

Get me to the school on time
Please!

Jackie Taylor and Mike Taylor are caught in the main hall. Coming in late, or hurrying to first period?

Getting to school on time is hard for some students, what with all that homework, choosing your clothes for the next day or "Late Night with Arsenio Hall". Then in the morning when the alarm fails to go off or the snooze button is pushed too many times, the day begins to be compressed. The time left for a shower, doing the hair, changing your mind about the clothes you picked out the night before, searching for that lost box of pop-tarts in the back of the cabinet, it all seems to go by so quickly.

Then the decision to take the bus or get a friend to pick you up, or the dreaded parents giving you a lift to school. It's no wonder that some students arrive at school already frazzled and try to make the best of it.

And the band played on...

Marching to the beat of a different drummer

Jim Elwood and Tracy Fitzpatrick are enjoying this warm fall day as they practice with the school marching band. They're taking a break from their practicing, it's not easy making music ya' know, especially while you're trying to walk.

Participating in band is an artistic endeavor for many. It makes for long hours of practicing your music and watching your footsteps. However, it gets you into home football games for free and gives you a sense of school spirit.

Exchange concerts are always a fun experience and provide a place to meet band members from other high schools.

Take me out to the ballgame...

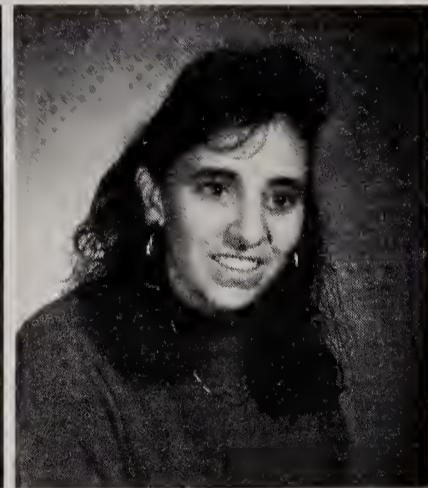

Keeping score or being manager of one of the baseball teams is a full time, but enjoyable job.

Gina DellaBernarda and Adrienne Burns pay attention to the action while James Gorborino looks on. Taking part in sports is a healthy way to get some exercise. The managers and scorekeepers work hard behind the scenes to make sure that things go smoothly. They may not help the team to play better or win more games, but their time and efforts are appreciated.

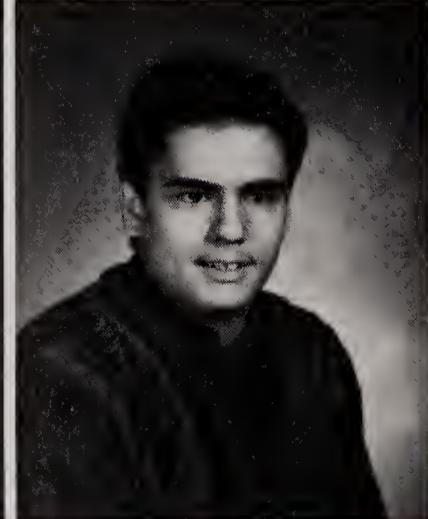

We wonder if Joe Morgan or Sparky Anderson started out this way?

What I am...

Just what makes up students at SWHS? It can be many different things, presented in our many different ways. It may be our friends, our personality, our style, or even our thoughts. But when we come together each school day, we are all the same; we are the student body.

This picture represents the vital parts of the SWHS student. This collection of memories, music, sports, junk food, and of course the phone, could serve to be the perfect ingredients to South Windsor High's very own time capsule.

We all will look back upon these years with our own different perspectives; the storybook of our memories.

School spirit isn't only for seniors!!!

“...shout, shout, let it all out...” -Tears for Fears

Privileged Sophomore Diana Sheehan is surrounded by the huge seniors of South Windsor High School. The annual bonfire, which they were attending, is held on the Friday before the Homecoming game and is the place to go and show your Bobcat spirit.

Craig Doster and Jon Lammers seem to be really into it with their megaphones while Diana seems to be thinking about something else. This is proof that sophmores and seniors can sometimes get along.

Stress at South Windsor High

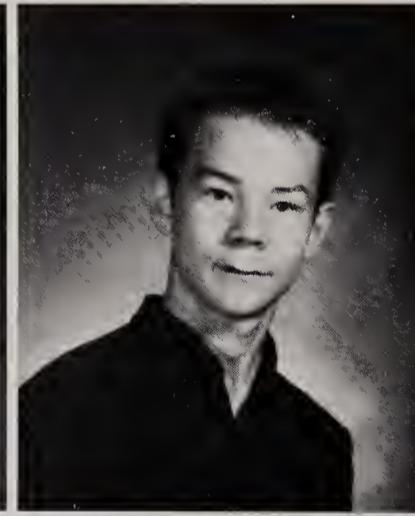

“...she’s got the looks that kill...” - Motley Crue

Stress is a major part of everyone's life here at South Windsor High. Ok, so it's affecting sophomore Sharlene Bergeron a little bit more than usual. Maybe she's stressed out because of all the homework she's been getting in US History and American Lit., the two courses that sophomores are required to take. Then again, it could be the fact that she still has two years to go before she graduates. Whatever the reason is, stress is here to stay.

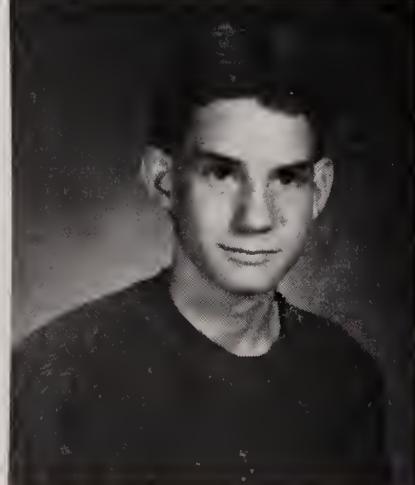

You better be careful Shar, your face might freeze that way!

Roxanne Lane

Spring sports couldn't be more fun! Rob Muse seems to be having a "ball," no pun intended. Rob's famous for his cute little smile and outgoing personality.

Spring brings sunshine, flowers, fun and with fun comes baseball. Hotdogs, cold soda and friends are all part of the game. Whether it's a homerun or a strike out, the players are good spirited and enjoy the game.

Pee-Wee Herman visited our school this year, aren't we lucky?? Wait, that's not Pee-Wee, that's Jeff House. Although Jeff isn't as well known as Mr. Herman, he does have at least one loyal fan, Dave Burr.

Forever Young

Time to laugh,
Time to learn,
Sophomores find time for both

What up Lajuan??? It's not nice to point ya know! This looks to be a fun filled class fully equipped with class clowns. Do you realize how school would be without a few laughs during the day?

But school is for learning and studying and preparing for the future. For these sophomores it would seem that the future is not too much of a concern at this time, but lurking just around the corner are the PSAT's, then the SAT's and then College.

Hey guys, better start studying NOW

Ring around The Rosy

Rings. One waits two long years to receive them, then when Sophomore year finally rolls around, the time has come. The ring is not only a symbol of school spirit, it is a reflection of someone's interests or hobbies. The Ring Dance is an event to which all the sophomores look forward. It is a special night because it is a symbol of acceptance into high school. In this picture the students are anxiously awaiting the arrival of their rings.

Two Girls For Every Guy

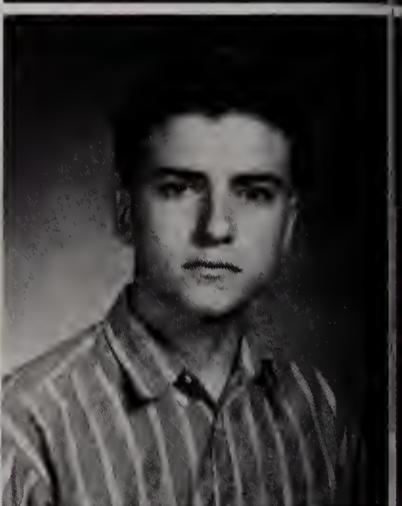

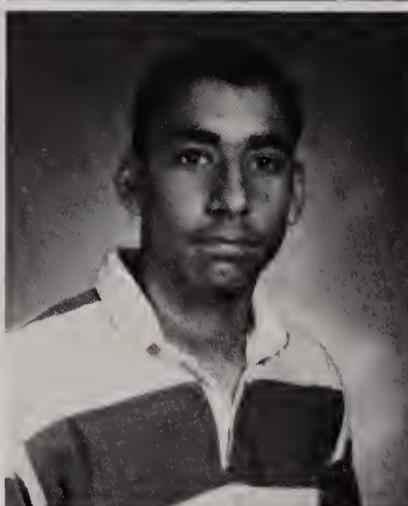

Another fun filled study hall for these sophomores. I wonder why they all have that fiendish grin upon their faces? Could it be that they have no homework to do or maybe one of their teachers is absent? It seems like Greg Misoda is having a good time and why shouldn't he be. He's sitting between sophomores Dawn O'Connor and Diane Shechan.

Sophomore and Senior share kitchen duties

Sophomore Kevin Costa and senior Kevin Callahan are one of the many guys that participate in the long ago women's job of cooking. You'd be surprised if you knew how many guys at South Windsor High School take cooking class or bake shop. For both guys and girls, cooking classes offered at school can be very fun and also beneficial, especially when we all go off to college and are left without home cooked meals or enough money for Dominos Pizza. for Dominos Pizza anymore.

Computers have a certain fascination for many. The Industrial Technology Department uses computers in Graphic Arts, Drafting and Manufacturing classes. Here Anthony Land works at programming the computer to operate a robotic arm.

Having computer knowledge will be a boon to many entering college or the job field. SWHS provides many students with basic computer skills and a lot more students specific skills that will help them to succeed at their future endeavors.

Get ready, get set, DRAW

No, he's not a gun fighter from the old west. He's sophomore Todd Marks in drafting class working on a preliminary sketch to begin one of his drawing projects. Whether he ends up as a draftsman or an architect is hard to say, but the drawing skills he is learning here will serve him well in many vocations.

It's a new beginning for the freshman when they got off the bus on the first day of school with anticipation.

Andrea Odom, Jason Pitts, Nicole Conway, and Sybil Chambers aren't really sure of what to expect from the adventure of a new school. New faces in your class, new teachers and new schedules and the high school way of life are all there to cause some major doubts.

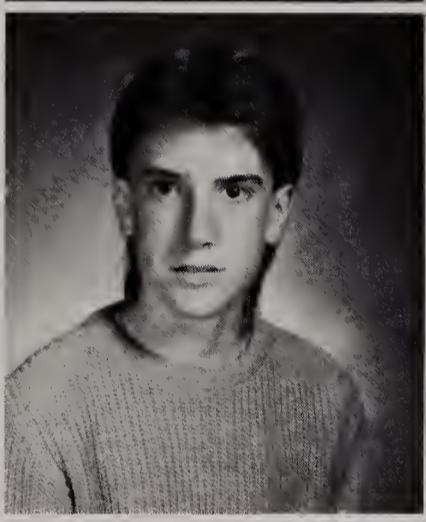

But almost all newcomers survive the first day and in a week at the most feel like the seasoned veterans of the upper three grades.

Good times at SWHS

Summer ends-school begins

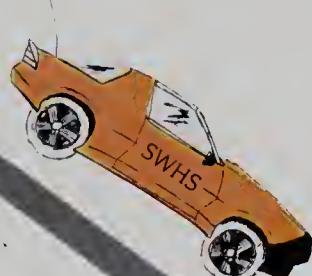

As the sun rises on a cold Monday morning it seems there will be no end to this day but as you drag yourself through the front door, your best friend runs up to you with some exciting gossip. And that's where it begins...Between each period, you here something new, and eventually the excitement spreads to inside the classrooms. When "fun" is confined to the walls of SWHS. We all have to be somewhat creative to get through the day with a smile. Some gossip could have already heard about like the many fights held during lunch or about the pulling of the fire alarm, who's is going out with who, and what's what. We all know that school is not always the most exciting of places, but with the help of a few good friends, some good gossip, and some delinquent activities we will always remember our high school years as the best of times.

Underclassmen Adam Jacoby, Chris Zabka, Kandi Doolittle, Sharlena Bergeron enjoy the last few days of summer.

Cyndi Balboni & Colleen Collins take a break from the sun in Myrtle Beach, SC

*Let the story be told, let them say what they want,
let the photos be bold,
let them show what they want*

The Cars

Lisa Schum, Merry Bergeson, Lisa Michelizza, and Ellen Clegg celebrate at a birthday party.

Without friends, what is summer all about

Wendy Clark and Michele Thayer meet "Jessica" in Toon Land at Disney MGM.

Jen Case and Cindy Blanquette ponder the idea of becoming seniors.

Chris Dio, Joe Alicki, and Rusty Williams take a break from the waves after the prom.

End of summer-new beginnings

The seniors present...
HOMECOMING -1989

Karen Melinosky meets Donald Duck (alias Norm Gagner) in the hall at the Masquerade Dance

Homecoming queen Kim Slater and king Brian Salkeld enjoy their ceremonial ride around the field.

Homecoming prince and princess, Jeff Brown and Roxanne Aquije, hope to follow in the king and queens' footsteps.

"Hi, I'm Larry, this is my brother Daryl and this is my other brother Daryl." Actually it's Chris Mauth, Brian Wood and Alex Bailey.

Oct. 28, 1989
And the good times roll on

Many hours of hard work went into preparing for Homecoming '89. It began as usual with the spirit week planned to bring the school together and excite the students for the Homecoming football game. Spirit week began with hat and shades day, bandana day, beach day, and silly day. The most successful day of spirit week was maroon and gold day this year, much of it due to the cancellation of the fall pep rally. Many students expressed anger over this incident but it seemed the cancellation actually pulled the students together and opened the eyes of many people to the fact that the students of this school do have school spirit.

Over half of the student body attended in costume this years HOMECOMING MASQUERADE DANCE. The seniors, led by Wendy Clark, deserve credit for the great success of the event. As the students entered the gym through rows of cornstalks, they saw a haunted house in the distance.

S.W. bobcat mascots cheer for our homecoming football game.

The Masquerade Dance

"Be excellent to each other!" Mark Bonner and Don Rapoza recreate "Bill and Ted's Excellent Adventure."

Homecoming's Masquerade Dance is waking up the dead. You'd never guess that this was once the high school gym!

On with Fall & Winter Activities

Merry Bergeson intensely waits for the opposing team to slam the ball.

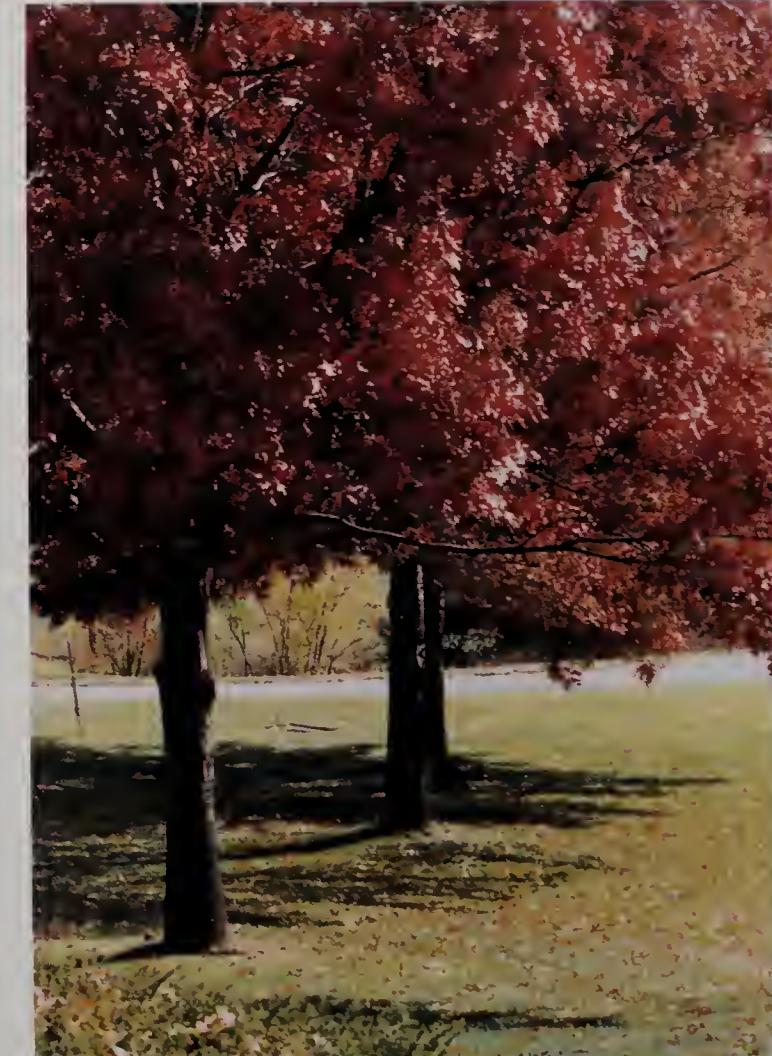

The first snowfall signifying the end of fall and the beginning of the... winter! The incredible success of the fall sports fades slowly away as we refocus on basketball, gymnastics, hockey and indoor track. If the past is any indication, this years winter sports will also prove to be memorable. What else is there to do when the temperature is below freezing and it has just snowed five inches? Head for the slopes! Skiing is a popular pastime here at SWHS as well as anything else to do with the cold white stuff. As for music, Christmas is always preceded by the long prepared winter concerts featuring the Concert Band and the Chorus.

We all know what comes at the end of January... midterms! What a way to begin the year. Actually when you think about it, winter is not all that bad. When else can you wake up a half an hour early just to get the car started or try not to fall flat on your face on your walk to Wapping or possibly wait in anticipation for school to be cancelled....

Christy Berr, Carolyn Asplund and Paul Bavier, that wild and crazy guy, have a hair rasing time.

Agata Kozikowski, "What's up doc?"

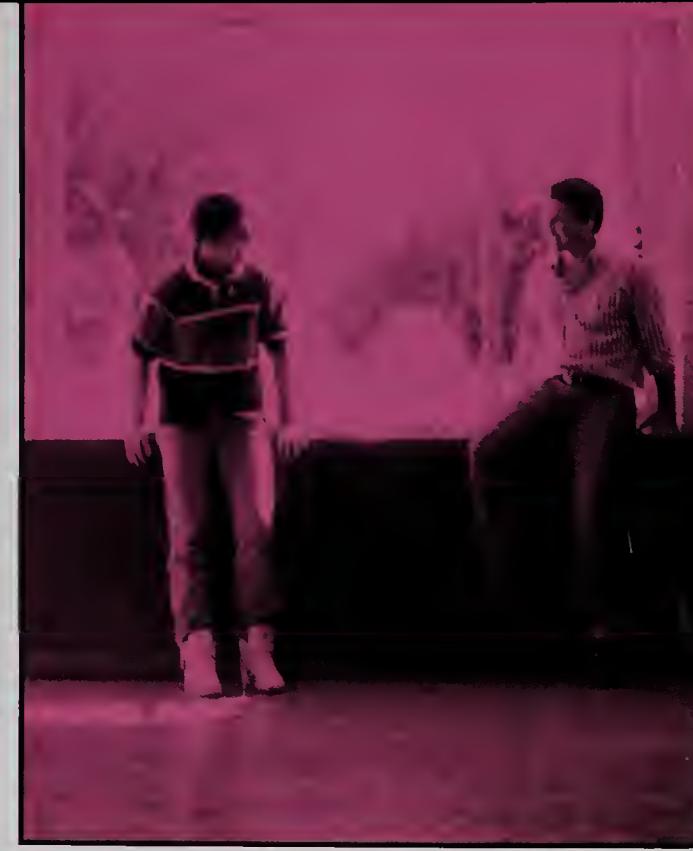

Jeff Collins and Dan Katzbak look like they are trying to figure out how to start the car, actually they're installing a radio. Right!!!

The red maples on the front lawn are always a distraction from academic pursuits when they change colors.

Having escaped from the cafe during lunch, Jeff Bergren and Kevin Willis discuss plans for the coming weekend.

...Theres always work ...or studying ...or winter sports

At an indoor track meet, Jeremy Colvin warms up for the 1600 meter run.

"It's not all down hill from here" cause Amy Bond, Sarah Creem and Ellen Clegg are going cross country skiing.

Juniors & Seniors ...Battle of the Barns

Every Senior Class of SWHS attempts to leave its mark on South Windsor. This usually takes form on one of the two barns across from the high school, but last year's Junior Class started a new tradition.

A "battle for the barns" has emerged as a weekend pastime, involving many members of both the Senior and Junior Classes of SWHS.

Members of the Class of '91 said, "We have no regrets! All those crushed eggs, empty gallons of paint and wasted gas are symbols of Junior Class pride."

As one senior contentiously said, "Hopefully, the Junior Class will soon learn that the Senior Class refuses to be outdone."

Vanessa Gruver packs up her books after a tough day in Graphic's class.

FRIENDSHIPS...

They last a lifetime...

Best friends, Lee-Anna Kinel and Paula McGrath, enjoy their vacation together in Florida.

Jong Pak, Jon Cohen, Richard Casper, Craig Ingerito, Jeff Stillman, and In Song are one group of friends lucky enough to have one of their study halls together.

Tim Crawford, Brian Aselton, and Brian Salkeld; the three "heroes" of the senior class.

These three athletes; Michelle Yoder, Agata Kozikowski, and Becky Carfi share much more in common than just sports.

Susan Brathwaite and Kim Presutti share a friendly hug during lunch.

Sharlene Bergeron and Heath Welch appear to be inseparable

Jessica Mosur and Joni Cella spend time in the halls to avoid going to their next period class.

Connie LeBlanc and Steve Looby share a special moment in the main lobby while waiting for the bell to ring

Best friends, Marnie Gladstone and Amy Kowalchik, share the spotlight for a brief moment

The four smiling faces of Michelle Kronenwetter, Lauren Smutney, Kelly Sheehan and Lynn Kuzemchek shine in the hallway.

A friend is a person who is always there,
To put a smile on your face and say I care.
A person who is thoughtful and will understand,
To always be considerate and do all they can.
A friend picks you up when you are down,
To free you from your burden of a frown.
A person who shares the good times and bad,
To cheer you up when you're feeling sad.
A friend is honest,
And is always on your side.
To boost your confidence,
By saying you've tried.
Friendship makes one's life complete.
As you continue to travel down that two-way street.

South Windsor High School has three different choral groups, chorus, vocal ensemble, and spectrum.

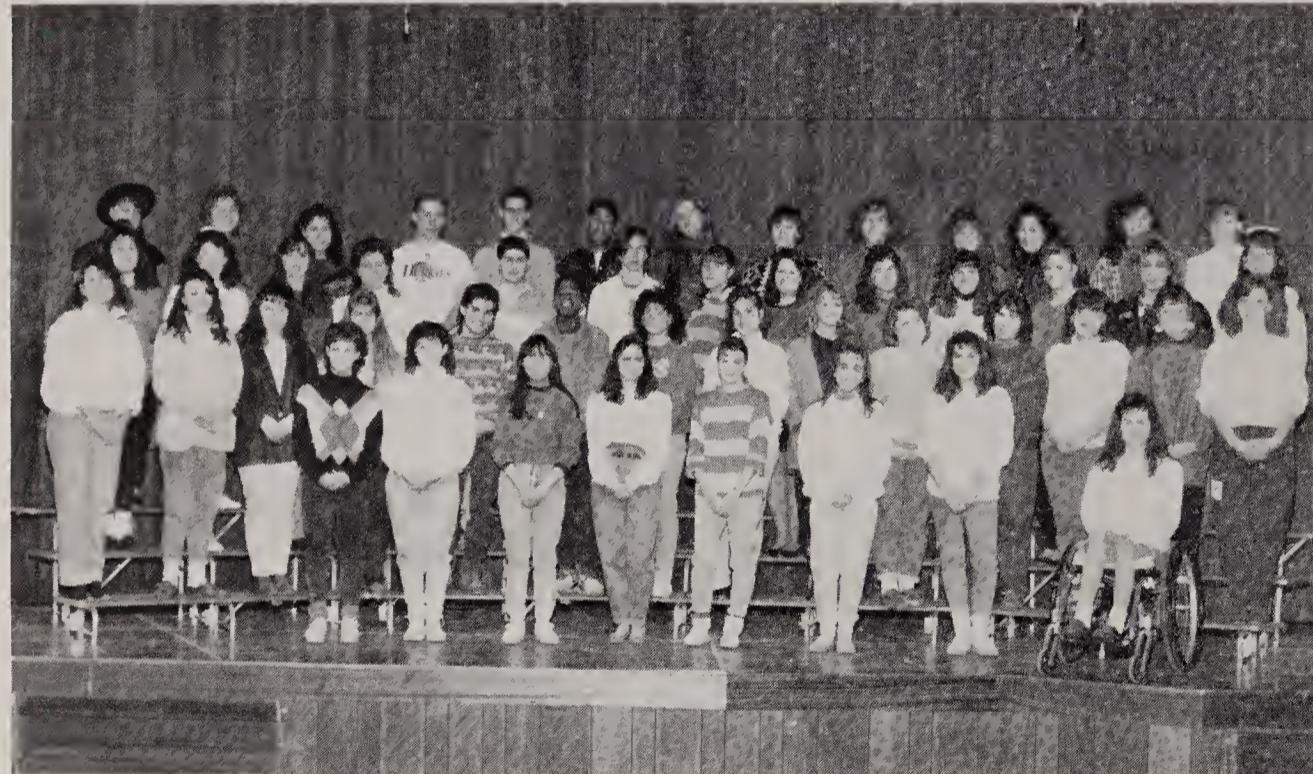

Chorus is an all girl singing group. They sing popular songs by artists such as Chicago and music from Phantom of the Opera. They are talented individuals.

Vocal Ensemble is a selective group of girls and guys. They sing more challenging pieces of music. For their spring competition they performed a piece from The Messiah.

Spectrum is a highly chosen group of singers and dancers. They are stage performers who are very competitive and always place high in their competitions. They are enjoyable to watch and they do a great job pleasing the crowd.

This fall the groups had the privilege of performing for the French exchange students at The Cabaret, which was a great success.

Band/Woodwind Ensemble

The Instrumental part of the Music Department is made up of three different groups. The largest of the groups is the Concert/Marching Band. They play at football games and put on three concerts during the year. One concert takes place during the fall and one in the late spring. This year's exchange concert will be with Westfield High School during March and April. During the two weekends the two schools performed together in a combined concert.

The Woodwind Ensemble consists of eight members. This group plays many concerts as well as performing with the concert band. Some concerts are performed in front of audiences at The Wood Memorial Library.

Members of the Stage Band sacrifice their beauty sleep to come to school at 6:30 in the morning, twice a week, to practice and always excite their audiences with their jazzy music.

No Strings Attached

The South Windsor High School Orchestra is made up of a young group of hard-working individuals conducted by Mr. Graner. This year's group is small, but this does not deter them from having a good sound. The musicians play string instruments ranging from the violin to the cello. The orchestra practices often which helps them to continue to be a success.

There's no business like show business

The Drama Club successfully put on the "Canterville Ghost" last December. The play was about an American family who goes to England and they buy a haunted house. The town is scared by the "Canterville Ghost", but this family is not. Throughout the play the ghost tries to scare the American family so they will move out. Eventually the family became friends with the ghost and as usual there was a happy ending.

This group which includes actors, actresses, technicians and directors worked hard to make this play fun and enjoyable for everyone who participated. Under the direction of Mr. Foley, Mr. Cloutman and Mr. Brown, the Drama Club experiences the real-life trials and tribulations of putting on a good show.

In March the club presented the musical "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying". Which was about a young lady who got around by her looks alone, and now has to face the real world of business. As usual, Drama entertained us and enriched our years at South Windsor High School.

The SWHS Outing Club allows adventurous students to express their desire for thrills. The thrill of the ski slope and the exhilaration of white water rafting are some of the things that the club offers.

The Upper Hudson was this years destination for the spring whitewater rafting expedition and with class IV & V rapids, club members got quite a trip. Leaving on Friday night the trip called for an overnight stay in Lake George and an all day rafting trip on Saturday.

For the snow dudes and dudettes, skiing trips to mountains all over New England provided thrills and spills. The trip to Canada during February vacation was the highlight of the season.

Cycling Club

New to SWHS this year is the Cycling Club. Organized by Mr. Mothersele, the club meets during the fall and spring to put hundreds of miles on their touring or mountain bikes. During the winter they work on keeping their bikes in shape and get ready for rallies during the spring.

Junior Brett Silverman, called "Yo Eddy" by his friends, has national bike racing experience and participated in the Mt. Washington bike climb.

Some words of caution to Connecticut judges... watch out for South Windsor High Schools' Mock Trial Team! The 1989-90 school year was the first time in 7 years that the competition has been open to all grades. The Connecticut Bar Association and The C.C.L.R.E. develop "dummy" cases which are read and interpreted by students, who are then divided into two sides. This year, the case was a civil case involving sexual harassment in the workplace. The two sides, defendant and plaintiff, each develop 4 lawyers and 3 witnesses. Each role is intellectually demanding and rests in the hands of the student. It is up to the students to create a persuasive scene in the courtroom as the judges grade them as individuals and through team performance. Led by South's own seasoned law veteran Miss Sharon Moran and an attorney coach, the students not only gain confidence from the experience but also a greater understanding of the innerworkings of the legal system. So turn off L.A. Law, and come watch S.W. Law!

The SWHS Math Team is one of the lesser known activities in the school. Every month, one school in Connecticut provides the location for a meet, much like the track program. Each meet consists of five individual rounds and a "team round", testing subjects from general math to Trigonometry. Every student answers questions in three rounds, and receives 1-3 points for each correct answer. The points are totalled at the end, and the schools are ranked by their totals. The whole program has long been an excellent opportunity for students to use their proficiency in math in a competitive setting.

Mrs. Davidson and Mrs. Gorman help co-editor Barbara Christensen enter a submitted manuscript into the computer.

The Literary Magazine provides an opportunity for writers and artists to display their creativity and skill. The "Lit. Mag." accepts writing and artwork from SWHS students.

The staff reviews these pieces and decides on the layout. The final product, "In My Minds Eye," published at the end of the school year, is a result of their long hours and dedication.

South Windsor Ambassador Team

The South Windsor Ambassador Team (SWAT) is an organization that provides a multitude of services for SWHS. This includes tutoring for students in academic areas, orientation for freshman and new students, help in running the bloodmobile, assisting with the breakfast for new students and Faculty, a Christmas party, and a staff appreciation party.

SWAT members meet monthly to discuss new ideas and topics related to helping others. SWAT is an instrumental part in helping students to enjoy life at SWHS.

Yearbook

"Workin' On The Chain Gang"

This was the first year that yearbook was offered as a course. The class is designed to teach students about both the graphics end of a publication and the computer skills required to record this information. Under the supervision of Mr. Nelson and Mrs. Bieback, students worked hard to keep up with various deadlines. The students came in as classmates but in time became a team. Many long hours were put in, including several afternoon sessions.

Mike Lahickey works on the typesetter to meet a deadline.

The Southwinds

"Tell Her About It"

The Journalism/Graphic Arts course is comprised of three full classes, each producing an edition of The Southwinds in rotation. Through Mr. Woodworth's English background and Mr. Colpitts' graphic abilities, they are able to cover the essential areas necessary to produce a paper. An Editorial Staff was formed, to discuss what is proper to put in the paper as well as originating ideas for the next edition. The school looks forward to each time a paper comes out, and enjoys the range of topics covered.

Students are inducted into the National Honor Society based on four characteristics: leadership, scholarship, service and character. The members of this year's National Honor Society, with the help of several dedicated teachers, got off to a good start, proving they had these traits. An induction ceremony was held in November, and the members attended several meetings to discuss and make plans for the year. Before Christmas, a Toys for Tots drive was organized, and the donations were brought to Hilton's Toy Box, care of Channel 3. The drive was a great success and started the year on a good note.

Student Council

The Student Council takes an active part in many of the organized activities at SWHS. In October, the members assisted the many lost and confused parents who attended Open House. This year the Student Council held a chain link contest to promote school spirit which was a huge success and raised over $300 for charity. Other activities include organizing the court for Homecoming, selling school sweatshirts, candy grams, and computer dating. In August, the Student Council plans to issue to the incoming freshman class an activity booklet explaining all the various activities and clubs at SWHS.

The Constitutional Competition is a national event held on three levels: district, state, and national. For the competition, students study different aspects of the Constitution, and answer questions in front of a panel of judges. At the end of the event, the point totals are calculated, and the school with the greatest number of points, wins. South's team consisted of 37 students from Miss Moran's D & E period Political Science classes. On January 17, these students went to the district competition in Hartford. They won the district as well as state competitions and will be going to Nationals in May.

Media Aids/Philosophy Club

“Excuse me, Who wrote
The Book of Love.”

This group of dedicated students gives up their study halls to volunteer in the media center. They take care of many tasks which the staff would otherwise have to perform, giving the staff the chance to work with students who need help. The media aids help other students in using computers, checking books in and out of the media center, and making copies on the new student copy machine. The media aids also deliver equipment, such as VCR's and filmstrip projectors, to classrooms, and in general, they help to make the media center an easy and organized place to obtain information.

“I wonder, wonder who?”(What, Where,
When or Why)

The Philosophy Club was initiated this past year by Jeff Shepard. The group of students who make up this club discuss a wide range of topics, such as the issue of burning the American flag, in a “more serious manner” than is discussed in regular classrooms. The students pick the topics which interest them most and which they feel they could have an intelligent discussion about, and they are always receptive to new suggestions and members. They usually meet once a month or when it's convenient. Mr. Hopkins, the club advisor, feels that the group should become a regular part of school activities and hopes to continue it in the future.

Everywhere that people are wrongly treated, persecuted, or denied basic human rights, Amnesty International is there to fight for them.

At SWHS this group takes a global look at the goings on in the world and tries to help those in need. The group has sponsored talks by anti-apartheid activists and circulated petitions to improve prison conditions in many countries.

Here at SWHS, there are many different activities to satisfy just about any person. For the athletic type, there is Football, Indoor Track or Tennis. For the intelligent type there is the Math Team or Media Aids. If it's drama you prefer, then it's easy to participate in the range of plays presented. Student Council has grown and Class Officers work hard to get things done. So if it's busy you want to be, it's easy to get involved.

Sports' Finest

Wendy Clark

A three-year Varsity team member, Wendy is always an asset to her team. No matter where or when, she puts in one-hundred percent. The team depends on her leadership as captain and her smiles as friend. This year Wendy earned herself many prestigious awards. It all began when she made

All-Conference, an honor in its own. She then learned of her selection to participate in the Senior Bowl, along with athletes from the entire state. Her final and finest prize was that of an All-State award in two different polls. SWHS is proud of Wendy and hopes for her continued success in the future.

Joe Alicki

Joe has been playing on the Varsity level for three years and has been a captain for two. He leads the team through his strong style and sense of humor. He makes it fun for all the team members who look to him as someone they depend on. He is continually counted on to play in his quick, defensive way to save the team from a possible defeat. Through his style of play, Joe has gained the title of respect among opponents. Because of his success and athletic ability, he earned two fine awards. Joe was picked as an All-Conference player in the CCC East and was also picked to participate in the Senior Bowl.

Jamie Lussier

A three sport player and captain, Jamie is a true athlete and competitor. He works hard, always putting his best foot forward. His coaches and team mates depend on him, expecting only his best. His friendly personality and smart playing style makes everyone respect him. He achieves success in all he does, helping the team. Through his dedication, he has set several records, leaving his mark on the SW sportworld.

During the soccer season, Jamie was an "active" scorer. He beat the CCC East record of the most goals scored in one season, getting over the 17 mark. Hurt for four games, Jamie still was able to earn this achievement.

Jamie also was a leading scorer during the basketball season. He beat both the record for three-point goals scored in a season and lifetime. Once again, he was up over the 17 mark, earning himself this honor.

The CCC East Champs

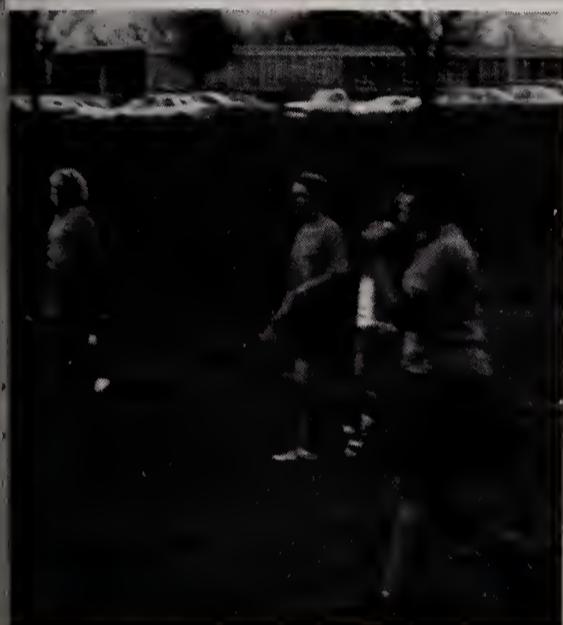

Volleyball

Winning the title with a perfect 18-0 record, the SWHS Volleyball team showed the conference that they were number one. Through the hard work and close friendships, they made their season fun. There were many fans attending their games, forming a new "Bobcat Faithful." East Hartford was the toughest and most crucial game to win the title. The team pulled off a victory with the close score of 3-2.

Field Hockey

The war to capture CCC East crown was a big one, but SW came through strong in the end. Led by Coach Brady, the team worked hard to achieve a near flawless record. Made up of mostly juniors, this young team can look forward to their bright future, bringing home many other awards. Good job ladies!!!

Hockey

The Hockey team ended the season in a tie for first place after a tough game with Fermi. After a slow start, the team had an eleven game winning streak, putting them second in the state polls. The season was a tough one, with many injuries sidelining players. Through the work of the strong seniors and supportive underclassmen, the SWHS's 89-90 Hockey season was an exciting one. The Banner shall be flown with pride.

In the history of South Windsor High School there has never been an undefeated girl's volleyball team. Until now. Beyond their coach's highest expectations, this talented varsity group obtained the CCC East title with an 18-0 season. After the star player of the 88/89 team graduated, the team was expected to have an average season. Instead, they went on to defeat many strong opponents such as Ellington, East Hartford, and Fermi. As the news spread within the school of their achievements, the entire school gathered in support of the team. By the end of the season the spectators had gone from mostly parents to capacity crowds. With this support senior tri-captains Merry Bergeson, Heather Brown, and Jodi Klemyk led their team to the quarter finals where they beat Fermi, three games to nothing.

Tri-Captain Merry Bergeson uses her form and technique to serve up an ace.

Platt finally defeated South Windsor, winning 3-0.

Despite their loss, the SW volleyball team had the best season ever.

Before the season even began, the team set certain goals for themselves. They planned to move up in the CCC East and make it past the first round in the state tourney. They certainly have nothing to be ashamed of, reaching a second place standing in the CCC East and making to the second round of the tournament. They also saw a top ten rating for the first time since the program began. The team was supported by many strong players, four making all conference and one making all state. Seniors Kristin Daley, Colleen Collins, and Lisa Michelizza were among CCC East selections while senior Wendy Clark was both all conference and all state. The program continues to grow and the future continues to look bright.

Definitely a rebuilding year, is what most SWHS football fans thought this year would be. The varsity football team thought otherwise.

The team refused to roll over and play dead to their CCC East foes. Upsetting Enfield (which was ranked 10th in the state and undefeated) 28-10 was one of the season's highlights, the other came on Veteran's Day when the underdog Bobcats jumped all over Manchester.

Injuries to seniors Cedric Hakian, Paul Bavier, and Delon Hunt made for a long season. On a positive note, Quarterback and Defensive back Brad Symonds was all-conference on both offense and defense.

Craig Doster breaks it for a long run in a game against Rockville.

Undefeated

Strong and aggressive are a few of words that describe this year's junior varsity team.

Coach Hackett and Coach Beganski had a great crew of guys to work with, and their time, patience, and dedication paid off handsomely with the team going 8-0.

Gary Burnham, Darren Levack, and Kevin Molloy were all outstanding for the JV Bobcats. On their way to an undefeated season the Bobcats outscored their opponents by a 219-28 margin. Many members of this team also played in Varsity games and gained experience for next year's season.

Freshman Football

The Freshmen football team was a group that started the season with the deck stacked against them. They endured low numbers, season ending injuries, and a lack of experience to post a 6-1-1 record. Their success was not solely determined by their record. This team improved every week; they came to each practice and came ready to give 100%. This excellent work ethic will surely lead to success for junior varsity players.

When asked about the success of his team, Coach Longo replied, "The 1989 soccer season was a lesson in frustration. Seven of our losses were by 1 goal, many of them coming with less than 5 minutes remaining in the game." The season was not a total disappointment, however. According to Coach Longo, "One of the highlights of the season was Jamie Lussier, who set a CCC East record by scoring 18 goals. Jamie, along with Joe Alicki, made the CCC East All Conference Team." The team was led by captains Jamie, Joe, Don Rapoza and Jeremy Colvin who tried to keep spirit up. At the end of the season, Coach Longo presented senior Rob Geoffroy with an MVP award.

Boy's Cross Country 1989

"Run Like the Wind"

This year the Cross Country team had an outstanding season but was continually haunted by disappointments. "The team was looking to come in first in the CCC East Conference with a 6-1 record, but ended up placing second. When you're looking for first place, taking second can be disappointing, but without a doubt, the boys put in a great effort," said Coach Labreche. The disappointments continued when the team, hoping to be state champions, placed 3rd in the Class L state meet but Coach Labreche continued, "placing 3rd out of 27 teams is not bad." Brian Carney, Geoff Williard, and Chris Rose made the All CCC team.

"Running With the Shadows"

This year the girl's cross country team turned out to be extremely small with only six girls participating. The lack of members did not hurt the team, however. According to senior Kristie Cella, "The small team made everybody closer and more supportive of each other." This year was also the first time that Coach Stoklosa ran with the team. He ran even the hardest hills workouts which helped to motivate the girls. In order to improve their long distance abilities, the team also practiced at Wickham Park, running the trail which they ran in several meets. The team ended the season having won against seven of the teams with whom they competed.

Boy's Varsity Basketball

The Varsity Basketball team, although not having a great record (3-15), in many ways had a successful season.

According to senior Jon Graney and junior Brad Symonds, "The team showed a lot of improvement over the course of the season, and the future looks promising." "The team has come a long way in talent as well as in attitude," continued Jon, "and we were still young." (Only one senior started.) The team did have a lot of talent. Senior Jamie Lussier set a school record by scoring six 3 point field goals in one game, as well as becoming a member of the team's 500 club. (The players receive points each game for doing certain things such as taking charges, "hustling", and going after loose balls. When they reach 500, they become a member of the club.)

Girl's Basketball

"Wishing and "Hooping" in more ways than one

For the past few years the turnout of players for the girl's basketball teams has been dwindling. Junior player Kristin Blume said, "This year's team was extremely small and had little experience at the high school level." Kristin was the only upperclassman on the team. The 1989-1990 season was a season of changes for the team, who also found themselves with a new coach.

Coach Brady, along with her dedicated group (composed of four freshman, one sophomore and one junior) bravely stepped onto the court prepared to meet the challenge. Although the team found itself fighting an uphill battle to even stay in existence, the girls who did play found the opportunity for enjoyment, for staying in shape, and for making new friends.

Boy's Varsity Hockey 1989-1990 CCC East Champions

"Let's Hear It For The Boys" -
Deniece Williams

....I just wanna cheer
Let's hear it for the boys
Oh, let's give the boys a hand
....What [they do they do] so well
Makes [us] want to yell
Let's hear it for the boys

The SWHS hockey team had an outstanding season despite beginning with only a .500 record. They were plagued by injuries, but their determination and their drive for success pulled them together. Proudly winning the CCC East championship for the eighth time in the past nine years, the team finished the season with a tremendous 17-4 record. Led by the three senior captains, Chris Dio, Norm Gagner, and Brian Salkeld, and Coaches Gunn and Bartolini, the team fared well against rivals such as Fairfield Prep, and Fermi. Throughout the season, the team remained ranked in the Coaches State Polls and was ranked as the second best team in the state for a number of weeks.

Jamie Murray receives the pass from his teammate and prepares to take a shot.

High-scoring Freshman Rob Gagnon looks towards the enthusiastic fans as they chant "Let's go Bobcats."

Senior tri-captain Chris Dio takes time out to stretch before the big game against Hamden.

Goalie Rusty Williams keeps his eye on the play at the other end of the ice.

Mr. Freeman

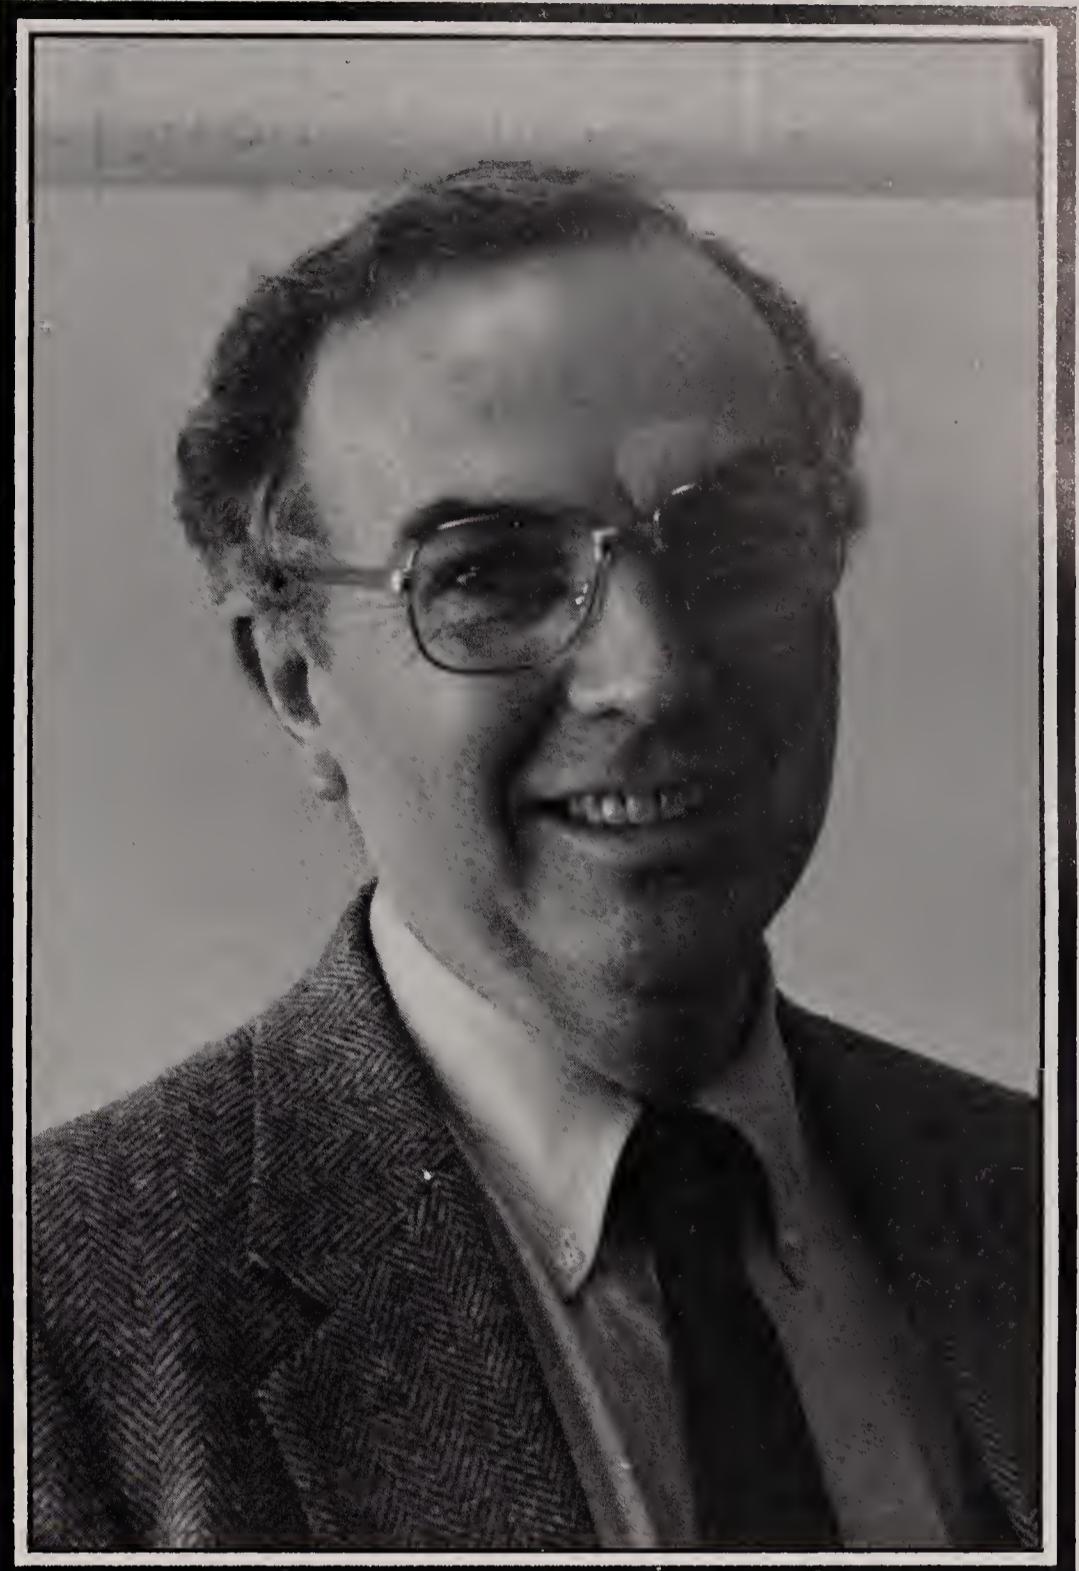

Teacher & Friend

On Thursday, March 22, 1990, Mr. Robert J. Freeman died at Rockville General Hospital. In memory of this special SWHS teacher, we dedicate this page to him.

Mr. Freeman was born in Keene, N.H., where he also attended Keene State College. He taught in South Windsor Public Schools for nearly 30 years.

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood, and sorry I could not travel both
and be one traveler ...

Two roads diverged in a wood, and I-I took the one less traveled by and that has made all the difference.
Robert Frost

Robert Freeman traveled the road from New Hampshire to Connecticut 30 years ago to start a teaching career in South Windsor. A young man, a husband, a father, a friend, and an educator. It wasn't long before he gained the respect of the faculty and students. A master teacher, a positive influence, a person to look up to and emulate.

During his tenure as a department head at Timothy Edwards School, he never chose the easy road. Instead he traveled the one that benefitted those he served best, his students and teaching staff. He was a man who dedicated his time and effort to do what was right for all concerned. You could depend on him in a time of need; he was always there with the right words. He knew what to say. He provided a sense of warmth and security.

The road traveled last as an educator brought him to South Windsor High School. All respected him, confided in him, trusted in him, and loved him for what he did for them. For those of us who knew him best, we will miss him. His thoughtfulness, his sense of humor, his ability to get the best out of us, and the challenges he provided for us will remain forever. Henry Brooks Adamo said, "A teacher affects eternity, he can never tell where his influence stops." Robert Freeman was a teacher, and he took the road that has made a difference, and we will never forget him because his influence will never stop.

Administration

The backbone of any school is its' administration. Here at SWHS the administration has been exceedingly helpful. They are often seen at school sporting events, stopping the trouble makers and cheering for our teams. The administrations' policy of working with the students has been successful in creating a pleasant atmosphere for everyone. They frequently participate in meetings with students who are fighting for a cause within the school. Because of their patience and flexibility, problems are easily solved.

Support Staff

The hard working secretarial and clerical staff here at SWHS assist the administration, the faculty and the student body. Without their dedication, all the important paperwork would not be completed. They keep track of all the small daily functions that make our school run smoothly from the bell schedule to those nasty detention lists. Imagine the year without early dismissals, late passes or absence notes. We all depend on this group to help us, no matter where we are or when it is.

It's one of those day's that keeps Mrs. Robbins on the phone. Answering the hundreds of calls is one of the many things that keeps this staff busy.

National Recognition For Dept.

A national English teachers' association has honored the high school English department, praising its teachers' devotion and energy and citing the department as a model.

The department was chosen by the National Council of Teachers of English for the teachers' role in a dramatic overhaul of the four-year language arts program.

Mrs. Policelli, head of the English department, said the school's English teachers have spent four years researching teaching techniques and the latest ideas in order to devise a more uniform curriculum.

In the past, teachers had lectured, taught grammar and used tests that required little more than spitting back information.

Now, students are encouraged to be critical and creative in their writing, Policelli said.

"We spent a summer researching what it means to teach writing," Policelli said.

Science Department

Although many students considered the Friday after midterms part of a three-day extended weekend, physics students throughout the school eagerly anticipated the coming of January 26. This historic date was the day their paper bridge projects were to be tested.

During the first semester, physics students had been bombarded with many scientific equations, relating forces, masses, distances and other "greek" terminology. Using 20 sheets of copier paper, students were asked to construct a bridge to span a gap of 50 centimeters. To complicate matters, strict limitations such as a three centimeter girth and no more than twenty percent overlap of each member, were placed on the project, making the task seem impossible.

Countless bottles of Elmers Glue and weeks of sleepless nights enabled these well trained students to fill the bill.

Guidance Department

Here at SWHS, one of the most important group to help students is the Guidance Department. Through their help and patience, students can plan their future or just get an idea of where they're heading. Each winter they help students plan their schedules for the following year, advising them if it is proper for that individual. They are the force that gets us through the college confusion. They have SAT meetings, FAF meetings and other information sessions. When it comes time to send in applications to colleges, it is through this department that everything gets processed. They have helped us all and for this we thank them.

Industrial Arts/Art

Industrial Arts

I.A., or shop, is varied and diversified part of SWHS. Students gain insight into possible careers or avocations. For many, I.A. provides interesting classes in Drafting, Woods, Graphics, Electronics, and Manufacturing.

Art

The creative ones of SWHS are always found working in the Drawing, Jewelry, and Pottery classes. Art is a great place to explore your design and hand craft skills.

Home Economics

Home Economics is going great guns this year with the Bake Shop, Child Development, Fashion Design and Merchandising, and Foods classes. There is something for everyone in this department.

Many students find Home Ec. classes invigorating, challenging and in many cases fun, but learning is always taking place. Many young adults find the Adult Living class a real eye-opener to the problems of relationships and sexuality.

The new Bake Shop class teaches business skills along with mass production of cakes, pies, and cookies. Perhaps one of our students will turn out to be a world class baker.

CT. Home Economics Teacher of the Year

Mrs. Marilyn Bishop, the Home Economic's lead teacher, was elected by the Connecticut Home Economics Association as the State Home Economics teacher of the year. She will now go to the National Conference in San Antonio, Texas, the last week in June.

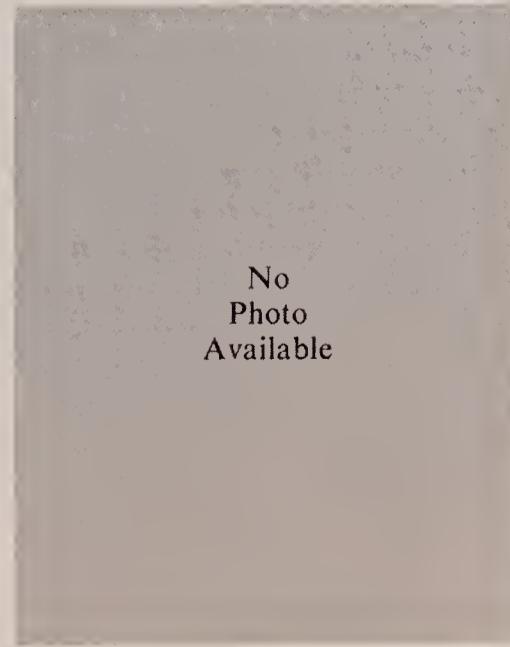

She was honored for the Fashion Design & Merchandising class which she introduced to SWHS last year.

Foreign Language

Foreign language at SWHS offers students classes in French, Spanish and Latin. Next year it is hoped that either Chinese or Russian will be added to the curriculum.

The French classes have an exchange program with a French high school in Rouen, France. The "frenchies" came to South Windsor at the end of October and our students went to France during April vacation.

Also during April vacation students from the Spanish classes traveled to Spain, Tangiers, and Morocco. Their language training allows them to be world class travelers.

Higher mathematics are not the only type of math classes taught. There are basic math courses that teach the fundamentals of everyday life in the real world. Such things as checking account balancing or measuring with a micrometer are also taught.

Social Studies

The South Windsor High School staff contains eleven social studies teachers. Miss Viner is the newest member of the social studies department. This is her first full year teaching in South Windsor and she has done a nice job educating the students.

Our high school offers the students a diverse array of courses in the field of social studies. These courses include U.S. History, Economics, Psychology, and Criminal Law. These classes prepare the student for the future by educating and expanding the student's knowledge.

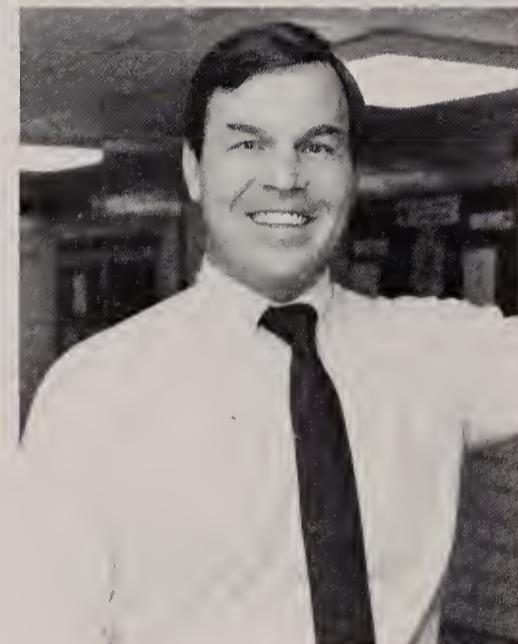

The social studies department has been recognized for their excellent accomplishments. Miss Moran has led her class to the Bicentennial State Constitutional Competition, this is what teaching is all about.

Miss Sharon Moran, a Social Studies Teacher for twenty-four years, has been honored as this year's recipient of the "Mark R. Shedd Award." This prestigious award was presented to Miss Moran by the Connecticut Law Consortium for law-related education. There were many outstanding candidates to choose from, but Miss Moran was the one who stood out in the minds of the voters. Miss Moran was recognized for her outstanding work on the Bicentennial Constitution and mock trial competitions. This award is given on a yearly basis to the teacher who makes significant efforts on behalf of law related education.

On Thursday, October 26, there was an awards ceremony and reception at the Legislative Office Building in Hartford. Family, friends, administrators, and co-workers attended the ceremony. It was a memorable event for all who attended especially the recipient, Miss Moran.

New to the department this year is the networked IBM lab with twenty-five IBM PS/2's. These will be a great help with the business classes in the future. These computers will make courses in Accounting and Keyboarding up-to-date along with providing a computer lab. Also new this year is the team-taught Yearbook course.
